Final two weeks of March 2020 • Listing inventory for both property types declined quarter over quarter, reflecting market conditions at the end of the quarter. The recent change in market conditions began in early March and has been measured in terms of days. Awareness of the global pandemic known as COVID-19 cooled conditions with two significant rate cuts by the Federal Reserve and the statewide shutdown of nonessential businesses. If the outbreak is not prolonged, there is still potential for a release of pent-up demand, but this depends on the extent of damage done to the economy.

New Year 2020 through mid-March 2020 The median sales price for condos decreased by 6.4% to $435,000, and the median sales price for single-family properties slipped 3% to $1,600,000, respectively, from the year-ago quarter. The direction of sales by property types was not in sync. Condo sales slipped 1.6% to 680, while single-family sales rose 9.9% to 89 respectively over the same period. The 2-bedroom and 5-bedroom condo markets saw the most price gains in the single-family markets were the 3-bedrooms and 4-bedrooms.

Condos

- Listing inventory declined year over year for the third time in four quarters
- Median sales price and number of sales slipped annually for the first time in three quarters
- Cash purchases represented just under two-thirds of all condo sales
